MARTHA STEWART LIVING™

Quick facts about the NEW Martha Stewart Living display!

Why Anso nylon?

Nylon delivers better performance for your carpet. It is the world's leading carpet fiber because it delivers better overall performance than all other fibers, including polyester and polypropylene. Anso nylon is tougher. When you compare the stress-strain of Anso nylon and other nylon carpet fibers, Anso nylon is approximately 20% tougher – a significant difference. This means that Anso nylon fiber is more abrasion resistant than other fibers. Anso nylon is more resilient. Anso nylon is recognized as having the highest resilience of synthetic or natural carpet fibers. The main cause of this is Anso's fiber's twist-lock and twist-setting factors that have the greatest influence on a carpet's resilience. Anso nylon's proprietary CrossBond technology enhances twist-lock, providing more resistance to crushing from foot traffic and more resistance to tip bloom and de-twisting. When it comes to the differences between nylon fibers, CrossBond technology gives Anso nylon an indisputable advantage in performance. Anso nylon is stain resistant. Stain-resist treatment is what makes the difference in preventing and minimizing common household stains. All residential carpets made with any of the Anso family of nylon carpet fibers are required to be stain-resist treated. Anso certifies the stain resist performance of every Anso brand style before they allow the carpet mill to put their label on the carpet. The Anso name is your assurance that your new carpet will provide many years of beauty and stain resistance in your home.
